

AdvanceTEC Named to ENR's 2018 Top 600 Specialty Contractors List

Engineering News-Record once again recognizes AdvanceTEC as a top specialty contractor for its industry leading turn-key design/build cleanroom performance

Richmond, VA, December 10, 2018 – AdvanceTEC, a leader in cleanroom design, construction and process integration, today announced that it has once been named to the Engineering News-Record's (ENR) Top 600 Specialty Contractors listing. The ENR 2018 award recognizes AdvanceTEC based on the company's 2017 annual construction revenues derived from engineering, designing and constructing cleanrooms and high-purity process integration projects.

“AdvanceTEC is honored once again to be on the ENR Top 600 List of Specialty Contractors,” commented Bryan Phelan, AdvanceTEC managing partner and director of sales, marketing and business development. “While spending on capital projects is robust and some seek growth simply for the sake of growth, our approach is unwavering. We focus on client projects where we can provide value through our expert resources, and we avoid the pitfalls of over committing and underperforming. AdvanceTEC is committed to leadership through execution, a transparent “open market” business model, listening to our clients, and delivering results. In doing this, we provide project success for our customers and careers that our employees careers are proud of.”

Through lists like the Top 600 Specialty Contractors, ENR supports the construction industry by performing annual surveys of its key segments, and ranking companies engaged in general contracting, specialty contracting, engineering, architecture and environmental services, among other specialties. The rankings, based on annual revenue at home and abroad, are further divided into specific market
